Twelve Corners Pediatrics Telemedicine Consent

Patient or guardian understands that telemedicine is the use of electronic information and communication technologies by a health care provider to deliver services to an individual through video chatting or telephone conversation when he/she is located at a different site than the provider. Patient or guardian gave verbal consent for the physicians of Twelve Corners Pediatrics LLP to provide telemedicine.

Patient or guardian understands that the laws to protect privacy and confidentiality do apply to telemedicine visits. Insurance carriers will also have this information.

Patient or guardian understands that it is their responsibility to be familiar with their insurance benefit for telemedicine. Please contact your insurance company if you have questions. Patient or guardian understands that they will be responsible for copays, deductibles, coinsurance, and out of pocket cost not paid by your insurance that apply to this visit, the same as they would if they were seen in the office.

Patient or guardian understands that they are able to withdraw consent to telemedicine at any point, without affecting the right to future care or treatment. They may revoke consent orally or in writing by contacting Twelve Corners Pediatrics. As long as this consent is in force (has not been revoked), the physicians at Twelve Corners Pediatrics may provide health services to patient via telemedicine without the need to obtain duplicate consent.

By opening the telemedicine link sent to you by text or e-mail, you are giving consent for your telemedicine visit and confirm understanding of all above information.
